

Raw Beauty Releases Innovative Line of Luxury Bath and Body Products

Arizona-based bath and body manufacturer Raw Beauty has just released a brand new line of innovative spa products, several of which will be featured in a baby gift bag for No Doubt singer and Grammy-nominated solo artist Gwen Stefani.

Scottsdale, AZ (PRWEB) May 13, 2006 – Raw Beauty, Scottsdale, Arizona's renowned manufacturer of luxury bath and beauty products, continues to push forward into new territory with their latest group of product offerings for Spring and Summer 2006. Best known for their pioneering use of natural ingredients and their original, food-inspired creations, Raw Beauty has just introduced over 30 new products into the market, expanding upon their already extensive collection.

Notable among the new products is the introduction of their Children's Spa Products line. The line includes a sulfate-free shampoo, moisturizing conditioner, moisturizing lotion, bubble bath and body cleanser, all of which are available in both daytime and nighttime formulations. The Night Time Sulfate Free Shampoo and Moisture Rich Lotion have even been selected for inclusion in a gift bag for No Doubt singer, Grammy-nominated solo artist, and soon-to-be mother Gwen Stefani. The children's products feature herbal infusions and are gently scented with essential oils. This line also showcases Raw Beauty's attention to detail with the pH balanced cleansers and Vitamin-enriched moisturizers found throughout the products.

With the new product launch, Raw Beauty has also extended their pedicure line with their "Sweet Feet" Chocolate Covered Cherries Foot Syrup and Chocolate Tea Sugar Scrub, both made with organically-grown Dagoba chocolate. These pedicure products also contain Caffeine powder, which has been shown to be an effective antioxidant in skin care. Another new addition to the pedicure products is the "Belle of Bali" line, featuring a floral foot soak and foot massage oil, both inspired by the Balinese tradition of washing the feet in a bath of flowers and eucalyptus oil at the day's end.

Raw Beauty has taken this opportunity to introduce several new body scrubs as well, made with components rarely found in many skin care products. Their new Organic Coffee Sugar Scrub contains real Café Campesino coffee imported from Ethiopia. Some of the other scrubs that have just been made available are the Darjeeling Tea Sugar Scrub, Red Wine Sugar Scrub, and their Ocean Mist Salt Scrub, made with Pacific Sea Salt and seaweed extract.

Additionally, this occasion marks the introduction of a host of new aromatherapy products for Raw Beauty, including their Fresh Air Home Spray and Botanical Elements series. The Botanical Elements line is a collection of herbal aromatherapy treatments to energize, such as the Energy, Sleepy Head, and Sex Kitten Botanical Elements products, or to treat such common ailments as sinus pressure and even hangovers.

Rounding out the new product launch are the "Fresh" collection, which features a hand and body cleanser, shower cleanser, hand lotion, body spray and soy candles, all available in 22 different fragrances, as well as "Breakfast For Your Skin" bath sacks, "Destinations" Body Crème and "Sunshine Kisses" Hair & Body Powder. Raw Beauty has also added two new manicure products to their extensive catalog, the "Hand Jive" cuticle oil and hand crème.

This newest family of products from Raw Beauty embodies owner Janae Chang's passion for creating bath and beauty treatments that are nourishing to the skin, while maintaining her philosophy that skin care is at its best in the absence of harsh chemicals and additives.
