Raw Beauty Reaches Out through the Project Angel Food Organization-Feeding Men, Women and Children who are living with HIV/AIDS

Project Angel Food is an organization located in California that prepares and feeds men, women as well as children who are struggling to survive with HIV/AIDS. Every year Project Angel Food Hosts a Celebrity Charitable Event called "Shop in the Name of Love". Hundreds of designers and manufacturers in the fashion, home, electronics, accessories, cosmetics and spa products industry donate products to raise money for this wonderful cause.

"The Project Angel Food Program's mission is to nourish the body and spirit of men, women and children affected by HIV/AIDS and other serious illness. The Project Angel Food Program delivers free and nutritious meals prepared with love. We act out of a sense of urgency because hunger and illness cannot wait," says Marianne Williamson, founder of Project Angel Food and www.angelfood.org.

Santa Monica, California-November 2005, "Raw Beauty is extremely proud to be apart of this fundraising event which will run from November 30-December 5th. Being able to donate bath & beauty products to raise money that will feed so many people is amazing. To think of all the people who are suffering from this horrible disease just breaks your heart. Raw Beauty really wanted to reach out and do something to help," says Janae Chang, Raw Beauty Founder.

"There are men and women suffering from AIDS who are so sick, they can't even feed their children. Project Angel Food gives them the opportunity to eat wonderful meals and put a smile on their faces. Everyone gets involved with Project Angel Food and we can't wait to participate again next year," says Janae Chang.

This 6 day event will be held in Santa Monica, California at the Barker Hanger Airpark. People will be able to purchase the donated products, in which all of the sale proceeds will be used by the Project Angel Food Organization. This is an extremely large charity event that consists of large and small company sponsors, celebrity guests, as well as the general public. Donating products, reaching out and giving back to the community, has been one of the main objectives for Raw Beauty since the company was created.
